

Spirit Software Suites

■ SpirIT Warehouse?TM

A powerful and comprehensive warehouse management system to track stock locations and movements.

The warehouse lies at the heart of any distribution system. However, the constant and often complex movement of products in and out needs to be monitored very carefully if a business wants to keep a close control of its inventory.

Companies also increasingly need instant access to the very latest information on the location of any specific item. Such details are vital if a warehouse is going to operate at maximum effectiveness.

■ SpirIT Label-ITTM

A barcode printing kit – ideal for printing linear barcode labels quickly and easily.

Barcodes are now used throughout every stage of the supply chain, and have become an integral part of everyday business life. We have therefore developed Spirit Label-itTM, a low cost, entry-level application that enables you to print linear barcode labels quickly and easily. We can provide a range of options, right through to a high level professional version.

■ SpirIT on the MoveTM

Designed to keep in touch with mobile workers in the field.

To maximise the effectiveness of your mobile workforce, you need up to date information on what they are doing, and they need rapid access to the latest task-related data. Spirit On The MoveTM will keep you in touch with your workers in the field, and will keep them in touch with the latest project developments, customer information and product details.

■ SpirIT Mobile DeliveryTM

A fully comprehensive package featuring – Proof of delivery, vehicle tracking, messaging, traffic management, warehouse and vehicle management.

Any business that involves the delivery and distribution of items needs to make sure that its operations are as streamlined and effective as possible. Customers increasingly expect a fast and reliable service, and they want instant access to the latest information about the current status of their delivery.

■ SpirIT Presence and AbsenceTM

Monitor the attendance, location and movements of employees or pupils.

People are the most important resource of all, but they need to be managed carefully and effectively. For instance, poor attendance levels can cost businesses and educational establishments thousands of pounds a year. Keeping track of people is therefore an important management tool. With more and more workers opting for flexible working hours, it is even more important to retain control of staff.

■ SpirIT Track-ITTM

Highly effective asset management system. Keeping track of your assets can be a time-consuming, complex and expensive business – but this is information that is essential and needs to be readily accessible at all times. However, manual paper-based asset tracking systems are inefficient, labour-intensive and unable to provide real-time data.

■ SpirIT Truant TrackTM

Versatile monitoring system that uses a rugged handheld terminal and specialist software, to keep a close eye on truants in an area.

According to DfES figures, in 2005/06 there were over 215,000 persistent absentees (pupils who were absent for at least one day a week) in maintained secondary schools. It's the responsibility of Local Authorities to keep track of truants – but this can be a difficult and complex task. However, the DfES survey showed that targeted intervention reduced persistent unauthorised absences by 20% when compared with the previous year's figures.

■ SpirIT Inspect-itTM

Grade any type of item, product or service in terms of its quality and record the information quickly, reliably and accurately.

In today's competitive world, quality is an important differentiator. But how can you develop your own quality system, and then accurately assess and record the quality of a diverse range of items?

■ SpirIT Track TransTM

Mobile workforce and delivery management system.

Improve delivery and load accuracy, reduce customer queries, save on fuel, employee costs and vehicle fleet size.
