

Custom Design

Gotive offers comprehensive industrial design services during every stage of product development. Service includes mechanical and electrical design, modelmaking, design validation and much more. The result is an innovative ergonomic design which represents a synergic solution of specific human factors coming into play within customer's mobile enterprise solution and the requirements on product's functionality. Gotive designs the products to maximize usability and minimize strain on mobile workers.

