Zebra boosts mobile operations with Spirit

~ partners with supply chain specialist to offer complete on-demand data management ~

Zebra Technologies, the global supplier of on-demand printing solutions, has extended its mobile services by partnering with Spirit Data Capture, an independent solutions house specialising in on-demand data management for the supply chain.

As an accredited Zebra Reseller via the recently launched channel scheme PartnersFirst, Spirit will now offer the complete range of Zebra printing solutions, from desktop printers and mobile barcode printers through to accessories, such as customised labels. Combined with its existing range of mobile IT systems including PDAs and handheld barcode scanners, the Zebra printers will enable Spirit to provide complete mobile computing, scanning and printing solutions. Spirit will also offer maintenance contracts and technical advice relating to the complete Zebra range.

“Zebra’s high quality rugged printers complement our existing range of robust hand held systems allowing us to offer complete technology solutions for anyone with mobile data needs,” said Ebbie Khadem, managing director at Spirit.

“By improving mobile data capture and documentation such as stock control, customer invoices and delivery labels this will enable users to cut costs, improve customer service and speed up processes at all stages from warehouse to field delivery.”

“The partnership with Spirit further extends our strong supply chain expertise,” said Mike Pitt, UK regional sales manager at Zebra Technologies. “We’ve seen demand for rugged mobile services for the supply chain grow dramatically over the last 12 months, not only for traditional field-based workers such as utility meter readers but also online delivery staff dealing with customers on the doorstep. We’re looking forward to working with Spirit to drive mobile operations efficiency and best practice.”

Zebra recently launched its new EMEA channel programme, PartnersFirst – an award-winning approach to reseller relations which focuses on the key benefits for direct resellers and distributors, providing an integrated framework with incentives in line with partner commitment.
